

Soft Skills for August, September, October 2019-20

Diya Patel Std.-3A

She found her friends speaking in Hindi and Gujarati and she told them to speak in English as she herself was doing so. She is an example of inspiration to her friends.

Dev Patel Std.-3A

While all the class students were moving for their breakfast, Dev noticed that the fans were on in another class and nobody was in the class. He immediately informed the teacher about it. His alertness is appreciable.

Vincy Parmar Std.-3B

When the Yoga teacher was absent all the hobby students were playing but, Vincy earnestly kept on practicing the asanas. Her dedication towards her hobby is praiseworthy.

Nand Patel Std.-3B

He is a very keen observer and always switches off lights and fans which are unnecessarily on. His responsibility towards saving electricity is appreciated.

Sanvi Soni Std.-3C

While the whole class had gone for Yoga, Sanvi saw that her friend who had fever stayed back in class. Sanvi also decided to stay back and take care of her friend. The empathy she showed towards her friend is praiseworthy.

Ravit Dave Std.-3C

His friend was absent when two digit method of multiplying was taught. Ravit took up the initiative to help his friend and explained the method of two digit multiplication to him. His readiness to help others is laudable. He also took care of his classmate when she was feeling like vomiting. He not only offered her water but also saw that every ten minutes he went to her and inquired if she was feeling better. He is truly a considerate child.

Shubh Patel Std.-5B

Bansari Patel Std.-5B

Sesa Patel Std.-5B

Mandar Panchasara Std.-5B

Twisha Solanki Std.-5B

Mann Hirpara Std.-5B

Though the teacher had already divided the class duties among the students these students helped their classmates to do the class board even though it was not their turn.

Darsh Parikh -6A

Rudrarajsinh Dabhi Std.-6A

Sakshar Gajjar Std.--6B

Std-6 had gone for a field trip to Lothal. These students found an artifact. Without any hesitation they handed it to the museum in charge. Their honesty is worthy of praise.

Manpreet Arora Std.-8B

He was absent when the boys of his class who had long hair were told to cut their and come the next day. Some students who did not cut their hair were asked to sit out. When the coordinator told him to get it cut the next day since he was absent, he apologized and told the teacher that he was aware that his hair is long and he needs to get it cut even before any warning. His honesty and ethics need to be praised.

Suhan Macwan Std.-8B

There was a group activity in the class. Suhan met with an accident just a day before. The next day he came to school just because he had all the activity material with him and he did not want his group to suffer. His responsibility towards his group is creditable.

Archiben Patel Std.-11 Com

Even though she is not the monitor of the class, she always takes up responsibilities for activities and managing many other things without even being instructed by the teacher.

Nandi Patel Std.-1A

Aarav Gor Std.-1A

When the teacher was hurt these two kids were very concerned about the teacher and would serve food and take for her. The value of caring demonstrated by them is praiseworthy.

Rishi Patel Std.-2A

Vansh Parmar Std.-2A

Both these kids regularly arrange the benches and switch off the lights and fans before they leave the class. Their virtue of accountability is appreciated.

Krisha Prajapati Std.-2B

She helps students to keep their note books in the proper cupboard and pile. She also helps in collecting note books. Her considerate and helpful nature is valued.

Ricky Patel Std.-2C

He is a very honest boy. Whenever he finds anything, even a pencil, he submits it to his teacher. His honesty is admired.

Aashvi Patel Std.-3A

Anushka Karamchandani Std.-3A

Amani Patel Std.-3A

Anya Patel Std.-3A

These kids were going for breakfast and they saw that fans in another class were on. They went into the class which was not theirs and switched off the fans without being instructed by any teacher. Their alertness and concern is laudable.

Sanvi Soni Std.-3C

Navya Patel Std.-3A

These two girls found a colour box. They came and handed it over to the class teacher. They are also fond of cleanliness and always put in efforts to keep the class clean. Their honesty and concern for the class is appreciated.

Shlok Prajapati Std.-3B

It was revision time and a student had lost his text book. When that student was telling the teacher, Shlok without hesitation offered his extra text book to that child. His noble intention and thoughtfulness is worthy of praise.

Yashasvi Patel-4B

When the teacher was not in the class this child took up the initiative and managed the class on her own. She is admired for her responsibility towards her class.

Rhut Patel Std.-4A

Avani Rabari Std.-4A

Pranali Patel Std.-4A

Parnika Kothawade Std.-4A

These kids were absent for an activity. They were responsible enough to remind the teacher about it and gathered at the circle to do the activity. They are appreciated for their sincerity.

Om Shah Std.-5A

A child went to the teacher and complained that another student had torn the pages of his book. Without any instruction from the teacher Om pasted all the pages with tape. His kind gesture is creditable.

Aryan Gagneja Std.-4A

Shubh Patel Std.-5B

Chitrarupa Gumasana Std.-3B

Ishika Chaurasia - 2C

These students were selected for Role play competitions and due to exams their practice started late. They had to practice continuously at home and in school too. They readily accepted the challenge and practiced in their regular periods promising to complete all their work. They are appreciated for their dedication towards their work.

Aashrutiben Prajapati Std.-5B

The class teacher had assigned assembly duties to her and two other girls. The other two girls remained absent the previous day even though Aashruti had to go for a family function she prepared the script and attended school to conduct the assembly. Her responsibility towards school and her duties is commendable.

Shubham Patel Std.-7A

Eklavya Patel Std.-7A

Jay Sharma Std.-7A

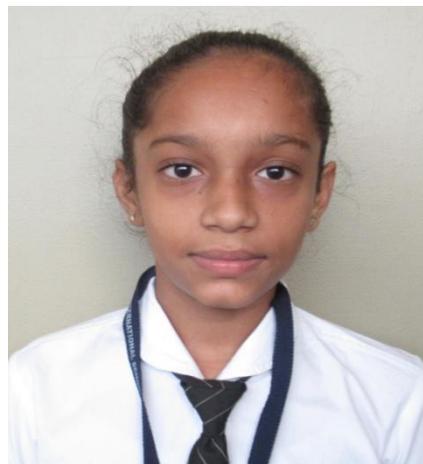

Bhavya Shah Std.-7A

Kush Patel Std.-7A

Since the term exams were on the teacher was unable to discuss the topic for the outside board. After the exams these kids took up the initiative and on their own they selected the topic , got it approved by the teacher, got the print outs and completed the board on 30th September. Their willingness and thoughtfulness is worthy of praise.

Riddhi Patel Std.-7A

Even though she is not the monitor she regularly keeps the teacher informed about the students who are absent and even about the collection of note books. Her conscientious nature and thoughtfulness is esteemed.